My old house is for sale if anyone is thinking of moving to Portland! I'll give ya such a deal! 1500 sqft + 600 sqft unfinished basement! Mahogany paneling and wood floors! Remote controlled lighting and wired for surround sound!

NEW JOB!

After 2.5 years at Hollywood Video Headquarters, where I received this award and a leather jacket for being so darned special, I was laid off!

I just started work at Timberline Software as a project manager and it's a cool place. My new boss has skulls tattooed on his arm and they don't make him cover them up!

BROCCOLI MAN!

Not only did Broccoli Man perform live at a REAL club, but he also has been on the news YET AGAIN! This time with presidential candidate George W. Bush! But Broccoli Man's fame doesn't end there! Broccoli Man was interviewed on live Internet radio by Susan Olsen, aka Cindy Brady! Check out the web site for news footage and the live radio interview!

HEARSE SOLD!

After 10 years of owning my classic 1964 Buick hearse, it has been sold to a very good home. Here's one last look.

HALLOWEEN '99!

1999 was a good year for Halloween. Although I didn't visit 26 haunted houses like I did in '98, I did go to five Halloween parties, three of them in one night! I did two costumes this year. At work I was the Blair Sandwich Project...

But that giant sandwich was too cumbersome, so five minutes before leaving for a party, I shed the bread, sharpened a broken shovel handle, stapled some ribbon to it, and became Olive Man! With his mighty frilly toothpick!
